

Implicit-I Relationship

Damage to relationships that are important for health, well-being, life activities, and functioning in society.

There is loss of confidentiality and damage to the trust that is essential for the relationship to continue